Dear [Name],

I am writing to respond to your request dated January 2016. Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust can confirm that it holds the data that you requested.

Please find below information requested:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Total number of patient admissions</th>
<th>Number of patients identified and flagged as having a learning disability by your trust (Monitor criterion 1; 2015, p. 57)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Number of admissions to in-patient care (as defined by Hospital Episode Statistics)</td>
<td>203,912</td>
<td>382</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Number of out-patient admissions (not including cancelled appointments or those who did not attend their appointments)</td>
<td>959,281</td>
<td>N/A – Not recorded</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Number of patient admissions at accident and emergency</td>
<td>123,538</td>
<td>259</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The Trust EPR does have the ability to record the fact that a patient has learning disability, but due to procedures under review the Trust has not recorded the information routinely, hence why we have not captured the missing data.

There is no link on the Trust website with published audit reports of practices for patients with learning disabilities. The audit report was submitted to Oxfordshire Safeguarding Adult Board in July 2014 and the Quality Committee in August 2014.

Please note that on 1 November 2011 the Oxford Radcliffe Hospitals NHS Trust (ORH) merged with the Nuffield Orthopaedic Hospital NHS Trust (NOC) to form the Oxford University Hospitals NHS Trust (OUH). Our response reflects these changes. Therefore, we consider that Oxford University Hospitals Trust has released to you all of the information that it holds in relation to your request.
