

Access to Health Records ACT 1990 (Access to records relating to deceased patient)

Background

With effect from 1st March 2000, under the Access to Health Records Act 1990, the right of access to a deceased patient's health records is available for:

- The deceased's personal representative.
- Or those who have a claim arising from the patient's death.

The Act provides the right of access to health records created from 1st November 1991.

Please note that the Subject Access Team has 30 days by law to process a request.

Rights

The Act provides for the right of access. However, the record holder may withhold information which might cause serious harm to physical or mental health of any individual or might identify a third party. The record holder does not have to disclose the fact that information has been withheld.

If you think you may not have received all the information you are entitled to, your rights will then be explained to you. Where the holder of the record is the hospital, you should take the matter up in the first instance with the Subject Access Team via the hospital switchboard or email.

Confidentiality

Patients have a right to have their personal health information kept confidential. Record holders are obliged to be satisfied that an applicant is the patient's representative or is otherwise entitled to access the patient's records. As a requirement, we will need to check your identity. However, we may also have to make further enquiries.

Making a Request

You can contact the Subject Access Team:

By phone, via the Trust's Switchboard on 0300 304 7777

By email, subject.accessrequest@ouh.nhs.uk

By post, The Subject Access Team, Stable Block, John Radcliffe Hospital, Headley Way, Headington, Oxford, OX3 9DU

Due to the Trust's ongoing commitment to reduce our carbon footprint, our preference is to provide disclosure by secure email.

Radiology Images

The Subject Access Team do not deal with Radiology Images if you require access to your images you will need to contact the PACS team on patientimagerequest@ouh.nhs.uk
