

OUH - Sophos Home Premium

OUH IM&TS are pleased to announce that Sophos have offered OUH staff the opportunity of using Sophos Home Premium on their personal Windows or Mac devices.

"We at Sophos express our gratitude to everybody at Oxford University Hospitals for the work you're all doing towards saving lives at this extremely difficult and uncertain time. We hope you all stay safe in the literal sense, but now more than ever we are seeing cyber criminals trying to take advantage of the situation and exfiltrate data and ultimately money from individuals, private companies and public sector organisations.

To that end we are delighted to make our Sophos Home security software available free of charge to all OUH employees until at least February 2025."

OUH IM&TS will not be able to offer any technical support but have put together this guide outlining the registration and installation process.

Use of Sophos Home Premium is entirely at user's choice/risk and support is limited to the articles available on <https://support.home.sophos.com/hc/en-us>

References to telephone support in the knowledgebase articles are for customers who are paying for Sophos Home Premium.

As this is being provided in addition to our corporate licence, the free use does not include email or telephone support from Sophos.

Sophos Home Premium only works on Windows and Macs running certain operating systems as per <https://support.home.sophos.com/hc/en-us/articles/115005339243>

- Windows 7
- Windows 8
